DETERT IS GIVEN
HEAVY SENTENCEMan Convicted of Assault on Wife Goes to Penal Farm.

A difference of religious belief, incompatibility of temperament between the couple, and a devilish penchant of the husband to use a stove poker to spank his wife with, brought the wrath of the law down on the head of Otto Detert, who will have an opportunity to assist in the spring plowing and cultivating down on the penal farm the next 90 or 130 days.

Otto and his wife, Margaret, moved to Mishawaka about a year ago from Oshkosh, Wis., where they were married in 1914. Since coming here they have lived at three different addresses and until yesterday their home was at 621 E. Battell st. Now only the wife lives there, as Wednesday evening she had her husband arrested on a warrant charging assault and battery with intent to kill, and desertion and failure to provide for the wife and 18-month-old son, Melvin. Otto couldn't raise the $250 bond under which he was placed, therefore remained in jail all night. In the city court Thursday morning the couple's matrimonial difficulties were thoroughly aired, the complaining wife reciting a tale of abuse from her husband extending over the time they had been in Mishawaka—to be exact, from the time "she stepped off the train here," according to her testimony. During her recital the woman, who appears to be none too strong, interrupted herself by crying bitterly. Her attorney, L. K. Parks, at each demonstration of emotion, quieted the witness. She told of being struck on the left arm with a stove poker by her husband, the iron cutting the flesh to the bone, displaying a scar as she talked. The latter part of last December, she said, when she was in a delicate condition, her husband struck her on the side of the body near the hip, causing her to be taken to St. Joseph's hospital in January for treatment. After testifying for nearly an hour, Judge Feig gave the defendant husband permission to question the witness, but the questioner and questioned began a word battle of contradictions and denials that soon caused the court to bring the scene to an end. All the time of the hearing the couple's child played about the court room, innocent of the tragedy in its parent's life, as well as its own, that was transpiring.

Detert was placed on the witness stand for a few minutes. When asked by the court as to the possibility of his inability to agree with his wife, Detert finally admitted that a difference of religious belief between them was the chief reason.

The charges of desertion and failure to provide against the prisoner were dismissed by the court, and after sentencing Detert on the charge of assault and battery, stated that he ought to have made his sentence at the penal farm six months instead of 90 days, as it was the worst case of wife abuse that he had ever heard in that court. Detert was given a fine of $20 and costs in addition to the sentence of imprisonment, which will keep him on the penal farm 130 days, unless paid.

DELINQUENT PAYMENTS
ON HOMES TO BE METBoard of Charities Will Make Payments of Families in Distress.

In addition to the splendid work being conducted in Mishawaka by the Associated Board of Charities the organization at its meeting last night decided to extend its work for the present to assuming the obligation of payment of an installment due within the next 10 days on any home in the city by people who are unable to meet it themselves through sickness or any other available misfortune.

At present the board is caring for nine cases of destitution or want. At last night's meeting claims amounting to $75 were allowed.

While the question was not brought up at the meeting it was suggested by one who attended in a conversation to The News-Times later that much assistance could be rendered the organization by other societies and organizations of the city in cooperating with the former to the extent of taking upon themselves the donation of clothing and other necessities directly to the family in need or through the board of charities. The good work being done by the local charity association can be greatly aided if individuals or other organizations will but lend that assistance to the cause. The needs are not many, however, but those who are in distress should not be allowed to remain so.

BIRD CLUB PERFECTS
ITS ORGANIZATION

Organization of the Mishawaka Bird club was perfected at a meeting held in the social room of the city library. The organization will start off with a membership of about 50, which they hope to add to within a short time. A constitution and by-laws was adopted last night, and officers elected as follows: President, W. H. Webster; vice president, Kate Kern; secretary, Lillian Wybrant; treasurer, Miss Wilson.

Dr. J. P. Feagler outlined the policy that should be adopted in conducting the organization in order to obtain the best results.

At a meeting, the time of which will be announced later, a regular meeting time will be decided on and action of a definite nature will be outlined.

CHANCE GIVEN
ALL, HE THINKSFarmer Believes Many May Regain Health Through
Tanlac—Lauds
Medicine.

"It's the truth when I say that even the sight of water made me sick, and I was so discouraged I simply didn't seem to care whether I lived or not; but I've taken a new view of life now and my work is really one of my chief pleasures, since I've used three bottles of this new medicine Tanlac," Sam Essex, 50, a prominent farmer residing on rural route No. 1, South Bend, said recently.

"Yes, sir," he continued, "I could shout for pure joy because of the relief Tanlac has given me. I had had stomach trouble and nervousness bothered me a great deal. In fact, my system generally was all run down. My appetite was poor and the little food I ate, kept my stomach in a sick, soured condition most of the time. I was extremely nervous and found it hard to sleep at night. Some times I would just roll and toss about the bed all night."

"Well, as I said, I've taken a new outlook on life, since using Tanlac. I'm fast regaining my health through this new medicine. I have a hearty appetite now and the food I agree with me perfectly as I'm never bothered with my stomach any more. My nerves are greatly improved and really, I sleep like a child the whole night through."

"I'm making a statement because I think that others should be told what a wonderful medicine Tanlac really is, so that they may take advantage of the offer and regain health just as I am doing."

Tanlac is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Mishawaka at the Red Cross Pharmacy where a special Tanlac representative is explaining the new medicine to the public daily. Adv.
